Anuradha Sriram Sriram Sriram Sriram Sriram (July 9, 1970) is an Indian singer. [1] Best known for her work in Tamil and also worked in several other South Indian film projects. Anorde recorded over 3,000 songs. She also recorded songs for many non-film albums, lamb series, dedication and classical collaborations. Anorde made his debut as a singer with the group song Malarodu Malaringu composed by A. R. Rahman for the film Bombay (1995). However, she gained fame with her solo song Anbendra Mazhayile from the film Minsara Kanavu (1997), again composed by A. R. Rahman. Anurada has since recorded thousands of film songs for various prominent South Indian music composers such as Iliraja, Vidiasajah, Diva, Ano.M Malik, M. Kirbani, Sirfi, Hamsalaka, Ospachan, Mani Sharma, Kuti, Mohan Sitahara, Jovan Shankar Raja, Harris Jirai and others. Recorded film songs This is only a partial list; Anurada sang over 3,000 songs in Tamil, Canada, Hindi, Talugo and Malialam.
